Wagepoint

It pays for itself!

Did you know? Most customers enjoy a savings of at least 3X the cost of their time tracking service.

- Admin hours are shifted into focusing on your genius work — and your business!
- Compliance is automated.
- Reporting is accurate and protects both your company and your employees.

Wagepoint

Top 3 time tracking challenges

Accuracy

Inaccurate time reporting costs businesses money.

Compliance

Payroll processes, job costing and approvals are error-prone when they are manual or aren't integrated.

Communication

Timely communication and sharing information as it happens means better alignment and delivery from your organization.

Poll

How accurate are your employees and contractors at punching in and out?

- Not accurate
- Somewhat accurate
- Very accurate
- Perfect

Wagepoint
Ease of use,
for everybody.

People like to do what they know. Things that people have to do every single day need to be made easy.

Time & attendance logging and tracking is no different.

Employees, contractors and employers need to work with devices they know like mobile phones or kiosks with an easy-to-use time and attendance experience.

"We used to have someone manually entering handwritten timecards and it took 8 hours every payroll for them to do that. Now it's a 30 minute process."

Jacob Gadbois, Masters Touch Design Build

Poll

What methods of time entry do you currently use?

- Web browser
- Kiosk
- Smartphone app
- Manual timesheets

Wagepoint
Poll

How many locations do you have?

- 1
- 2-10
- 11-25
- 26+

Wagepoint
Keep track of what's happening on location.

Make sure your employees are where they're expected to be to meet your service level agreements.

Provide guidance of what your employees need to accomplish with easy-to-use checklists.

Chat style communications within the app allow employees and employers to communicate with ease.

This ensures everyone is on the same page, knows what is expected.

Wagepoint

Poll

Do you need to verify an employee is at a certain work location?

- Yes
- No

Wagepoint
Stay up to date with alerts and notifications.

Small businesses owners can't be in all places at once, especially when your employees may or may not be within view.

Alerts and notifications quickly enable you to respond to changes that need your prompt attention like late for shift, overtime, no punch out and more.

These could be related to employee behaviour or service level agreements with clients.

Wagepoint

Poll

Are your employees "on the road" for their work or at a single location?

- On the road from location to location
- Working in different fixed locations
- Different sites based on their current project

Wagepoint
Everything integrated.

Having technology work for you enables you to focus on your genius work and your business.

Look for solutions that integrate to reduce any manual calculations, optimize for compliance and consistency.

Time & attendance solutions should always link with your favourite payroll and accounting software (like PB & J).

"Using Timesheet Mobile, the time it took to reconcile weekly timesheets was reduced from several weeks down to 1-2 days."

Keith Ross, Maryland State Board of Elections
